

Mirumoto Daini, Daimyo of the Mirumoto Family

Glory 8.0

Personality: Honorable, Determined, Enlightened, Courageous, Humble, Grieving (for his sister).

Motivations: Restore the Dragon Clan, Help the Naga, Save the Empire

Notable Advantages/Disadvantages: Benten's Blessing, Great Destiny, Luck, Quick/True Love (the Mara)

What You Know: The Mara and the other Naga people have told you that the evil force they call "the Foul" is infesting Otsan Uchi. Although you have always been a little vague on what exactly is encompassed by "the Foul," you know it includes the Taint of Fu Leng. If this evil has entered the Imperial Capital, it must be expunged. Your own Clan was nearly destroyed by the ascension of your Tainted cousin, Mirumoto Yukihera, who dragged it into hopeless and disastrous wars against all of its neighbors. Your hesitation and uncertainty allowed Yukihera free reign to commit his evil acts, and by the time you confronted him, it was almost too late.

Now you have learned that both your beloved sister, Hitomi, and your Clan Champion Togashi Yokuni have perished. This leaves you as the leader of the Dragon Clan. You cannot hesitate or falter again, not with the entire Empire on the line.

Goals: If the honor of the Dragon is to be restored, they must help undo the damage their wars have caused – damage which served the cause of Fu Leng. The first step in this quest will be to save the Imperial Capital from the Tainted usurpers who have seized it.

It appears that some of the evil in Otsan Uchi is not of the Taint. Naka Kuro warned you years ago that the Empire would face a new and deadly evil, and the Naga also told you that the "Foul" encompassed more than the creatures of Jigoku. They know much about the Foul, and how it can be fought with crystal and pure magic. If the Empire is to be saved, the other Clans must be convinced to accept the help and advice of the Naga. This will be difficult, especially after the disastrous clashes between the Naga and the Imperial Legions – but you cannot fail, not after your indecision allowed so much evil to happen.
